Meet our NEW part-time 4-H assistant!

My name is Makayla Steinmetz. I have 3 kids and an amazing husband. My kids are ages 9 (Haizlee), 6 (Jacksen), and 3 (Kynnlee). Haizlee is extremely crafty and loves cooking with our family. Jacksen is so kind hearted and loves to go hunting, fishing, and hiking. Kynnlee is so silly and loves to just go anywhere you're willing to take her.

My husband (Russell) introduced me to the life of livestock when I was 19 and we got married. He was working on a farm and had his own cows that I grew to love, especially the calves, I just wanted to hold them, although I found out very early on that they don't like to be held and their moms don't particularly love it very much either.

I love to spend my time with my family. We do lots of outdoor activities and that's where we are found most during the warmer weather. I love to craft in my free time and read a good book. You can always find me with some kind of snack too.

I'm looking forward to get to know everyone and am excited to be a part of the Bingham County 4-H team!

Control of Rhizosphaera Needle Cast on Norway Spruce

In Extension we focus on the plant disease triangle when diagnosing plant issues. This triangle has three sides representing the required conditions for disease to develop.

These are :

- 1- is it a susceptible host .
- 2- does it have a favorable environment
- 3- a virulent pathogen.

In the case of needle cast we have a virulent pathogen (a fungi called rhizosphaera kalkhoffii), and a host (Blue Spruce). All we need for the disease are favorable conditions. Fungi thrive in cool wet weather. Spring is on its way and that usually means cool wet weather. I have already had a few samples of diseased needles from spruce trees come into the office.

Rhizosphaera fungi overwinters in infected needles. Spring rains can splash spores around and spread the fungus to new areas of the tree or to surrounding trees. To reduce the spread of spores, avoid overhead sprinklers that moisten the canopy repeatedly. Pruning instruments also spread the fungus. Disinfect pruning shears after each cut. Trees may die if weather favors the disease over the course of several years.

In the PNW disease handbook it states, “The disease has been described on Christmas trees in the Eastern United States and has been a problem in Pacific Northwest nurseries and landscape trees. Colorado blue spruce and Engelmann spruce are highly susceptible; white spruce is intermediate; Norway spruce is relatively resistant. Other conifer hosts include pine, Douglas-fir, true fir, and western hemlock.”

Control methods include the following:

- 1- Use pathogen free root stock.
- 2- Do not prune when the needles are wet,.
- 3- Avoid having sprinklers hitting the tree and wetting the needles,.
- 4- Rake up and remove all fallen needles..

There are seven fungicides that are labeled for use, but these are not effective unless applied throughout the spring.

Join University of Idaho Extension for the

Anita Wanstrom Memorial 4-H Scholarship

The Anita Wanstrom Memorial 4-H Scholarship is conducted and funded by the Wanstrom Family. The Anita Wanstrom Memorial 4-H Scholarship will be awarded yearly to applicants based on their 4-H experience. There will be a preference for applicants who raise, train, or breed their own livestock. This scholarship is being offered in the memory of Anita Wanstrom.

One of Anita's greatest joys in life was training animals and instilling that love and knowledge in the hearts and minds of her kids and the kids in our community. The Wanstrom Family would like to honor her by rewarding a 4-H member who has either raised or trained their own animals for 4-H over the last few years.

One scholarship per year will be awarded in the amount of $500. Participation in a livestock show is a requirement for consideration.

General Requirements

1. Be an enrolled member of a Bingham County youth 4-H program for the current year and at least two of the three previous years for a minimum of 3 years of enrollment.
2. Be an Idaho Resident.
3. Be scheduled to graduate from an Idaho High School (public, private, or home) during the 2024-2025 school year.
4. Have applied to enroll with intent to attend any college or university, trade school, or have a plan to join the US Military.
5. The scholarship recipient MUST BE PRESENT at the Bingham County livestock sale to receive the scholarship.
6. The application must be complete and correct once submitted for consideration. Any application deemed incomplete or incorrect will be disqualified from consideration.
7. Applications must be submitted to the Bingham County 4-H office by 11:59 PM MST by June 15th.

Please contact the 4-H office 208-785-8060 or hstrupp@uidaho.edu for the full requirements and application.

Zsuite Record Books

You can start entering information into your record books .

- All market animal projects will create a new record book for this year's project.
- Please label your record book the type of project you are doing. For example Market Beef or Breeding Beef, Poultry, or Dairy Goat. Do not label them the animal's name.
- Everyone is required to complete an involvement report along with their project record book. If you completed one last year, just unarchive it and change the dates to current year and add to it. If you are new to 4-H this year just title it involvement report.

If you have any questions or need assistance with record books, please call the 4-H office to schedule an appointment to go through it with you. 208-785-8060.

Project Registration Cut Off Dates 2024-2025
